Healthcare & Health IT in Westerville

Westerville, Ohio is a dynamic and progressive city in the heart of the Columbus Region with a rich history driven by purposeful development and a forward-thinking approach to infrastructure. Healthcare is a significant segment of the Westerville economy, with hospitals, pediatric facilities and medical offices located throughout the city forming Westerville's own "Medical Mile." Central Ohio Primary Care, the nation's largest physician-owned primary care group, is headquartered in the City of Westerville with over 400 full time employees.

- Municipal-owned and operated electric utility, WeConnect fiber network, and the nation's first purpose-built municipal data center. Services include fully certified and audited PCS DSS, PCI, and Service Organization & Trust Principles SOC2 Annual Reports, on top of securing protected health information to ensure full HIPAA compliance.
- Smart workforce: Otterbein University in Westerville offers a doctorate of nursing practice degree; post master's certificates for family nurse practitioners, nurse anesthesia and advanced practice nurse educators; a bachelors program in nursing; and various other nursing and healthcare administration degree and certificate programs.
- Immediate access to a comprehensive interstate system, and minutes away from John Glenn International Airport (CMH), the Ohio State University Main Campus, Nationwide Children's Hospital Main Campus, and downtown Columbus.
- Unmatched high quality of life: home to Otterbein University and its STEAM center, The Point; the vibrant historic Uptown District; and more than 650 acres of parkland.
