Logistics Services in Westerville

Westerville, Ohio is a dynamic and progressive city in the heart of the Columbus Region with a rich history driven by purposeful development and a forward-thinking approach to infrastructure. Westerville is able to provide companies in the logistics services industry access to a highly skilled technical workforce and an extensive telecommunications network to support critical infrastructure needs. DHL Supply Chain, the world's largest third-party logistics provider, employs over 700 people at its North American headquarters in Westerville.

- Municipal-owned and operated electric utility, WeConnect fiber network, and the nation's first purpose-built municipal data center. Services include fully certified and audited PCS DSS, PCI, and Service Organization & Trust Principles SOC2 Annual Reports. This translates to cost savings and ultimate reliability.
- Smart workforce: Westerville City Schools and Columbus State Community College offer credential programs in Business Logistics. The Ohio State University's undergraduate logistics management program was recently ranked 6th in the nation (U.S. News & World Report, 2020).
- Westerville is located northeast of Columbus along I-270, the outer beltway around the city. In addition, Westerville has easy access to I-71, which runs north/south; I-70, running east/west; and State Route 315. Within a day's drive, you can reach 151 million people and 42,100 headquarters – that's 46% of the country's population base and 48% of headquarter operations.
- John Glenn Columbus International Airport (CMH) is minutes from Westerville, while Rickenbacker International Airport (LCK), the region's cargo hub, is a 30 minute drive. Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, these airports offered over 160 peak daily departures to 47 destinations nonstop. The Columbus Regional Airport Authority is also the grantee for Foreign Trade Zone (FTZ) No. 138, which provides top-rated FTZ services to 25 central Ohio counties.
- Unmatched high quality of life: Westerville is home to Otterbein University and its STEAM center, The Point; the vibrant historic Uptown District; and more than 650 acres of parkland.
